

^{IQ}CrisisReady – Structure Instead of Chaos in Emergencies

It takes decisions based on facts to keep an emergency from turning into chaos. It takes direct coordination and collaboration. The typical case involves numerous departments of internal and external organisations widely spread across locations. Many enterprises have a crisis centre that is ready to act in such emergencies. With our tried and tested ^{IQ}CrisisReady IT solution, we enhance the efficiency and effectiveness of your crisis centre.

^{IQ}CrisisReady makes your crisis centre ready to act at any time and anywhere in the world. The central database summarising all information and displays real-time maps of the situation.

The benefits at a glance:

- ≡ Failsafe overall view from the crisis centre
- ≡ Mobile and decentralised: crisis centre at your current location
- ≡ Smooth collaboration and coordination
- ≡ Suitable also for simulations and training
- ≡ Complete, transparent documentation

Strategic benefits

Crisis catalogue and log: keys to mastering the situation

The crisis catalogue navigates you through the turmoil of crisis. Customised in advance for your organisation, the catalogue knows everything: actions, deadlines, distribution lists and more. The system-log records automatically each detail of the event. Completely and in transparent form. The crisis catalogue and logs are fully embedded in ^{IQ}CrisisReady and ensure the best opportunity for action and documentation.

Information centre: single point of truth

In a crisis, scattered, non-coordinated information adds fuel to the fire. ^{IQ}CrisisReady is a central database, a SINGLE data exchange that guides everyone at all times. It coordinates parallel, centralised and decentralised emergency teams and supports collaborative logging.

Plug and solve

Simple, intuitive operability is supported by ^{IQ}CrisisReady with many user devices (monitors, PCs, handheld and mobile devices). This means that even before arriving at the scene individually customised information is presented – in the form of a clear overview map of the situation.

Your point of view: information filters

Every category of users is presented with precisely the information they require and should receive. No flood of information, no gaps. Users within the organisation and outside: management, emergency response staff and media. Output and dispatch of images, maps showing current progress or press releases are performed automatically (optionally with prior approval).

In brief

Crises are unavoidable. Master every crisis with ^{IQ}CrisisReady, the IT solution that best structures the situation, delivering a basis for decisions and actions. Benefit from professional crisis management, which can save lives. As well as your image and profitability.
